About Us

What We Do

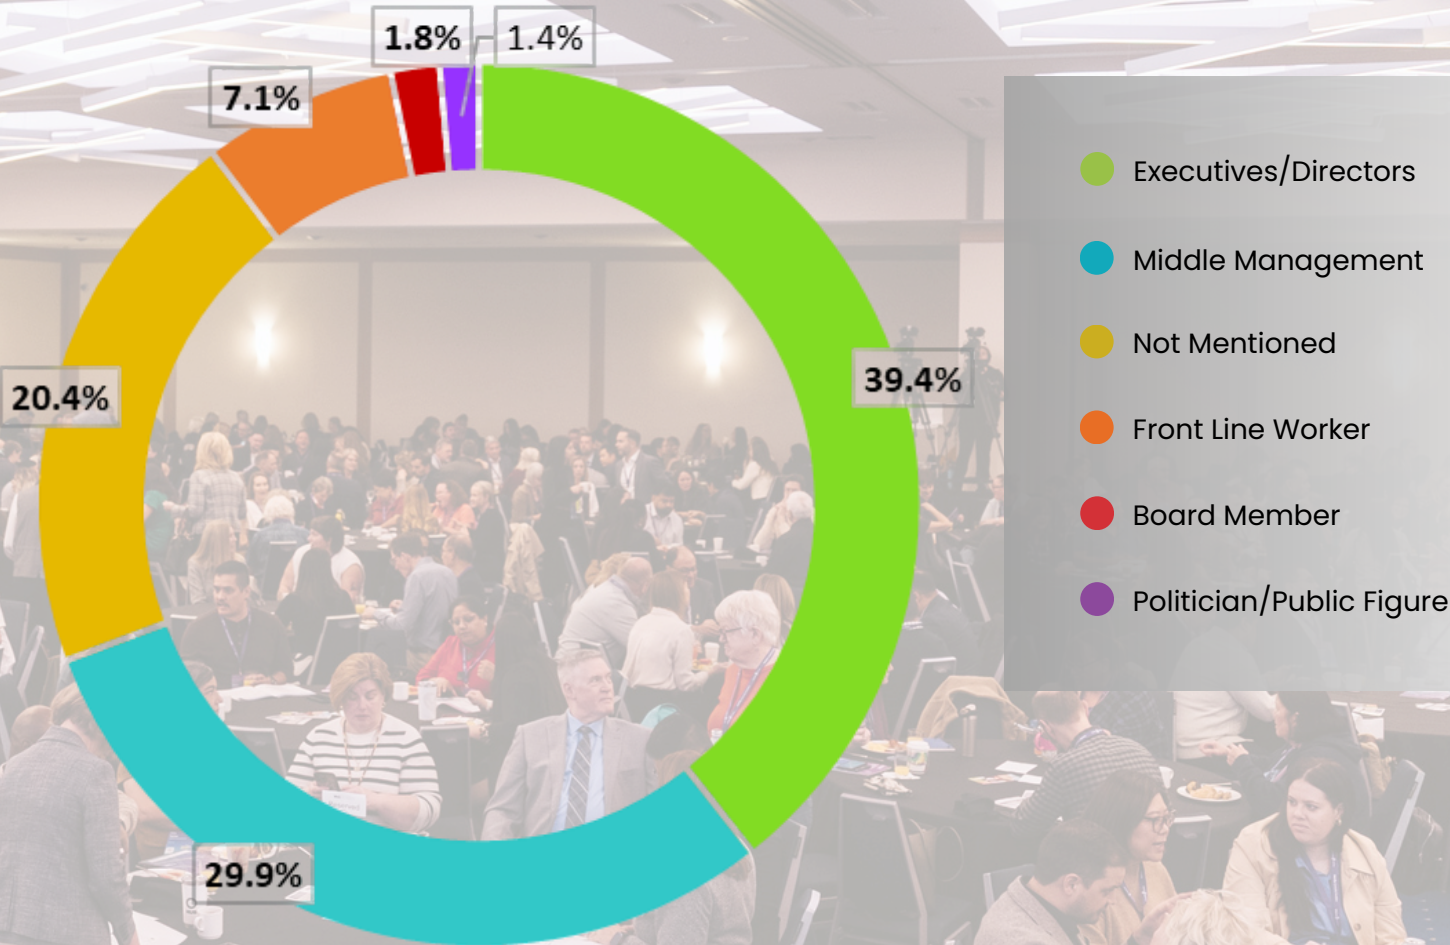

BCNPHA strengthens the non-profit housing sector through capacity-building education and events, research and data-backed advocacy, and programs and services. Each year, we draw more than 2,500 leaders, frontline staff, government representatives, funders and policymakers to our industry-leading professional development events.

Sponsors directly support our in-person events and online learning opportunities, becoming partners in our mission to elevate the non-profit housing sector across BC.

THE NON-PROFIT HOUSING SECTOR delivers affordable housing to individuals and families throughout BC to drive a future in which every person has a safe place to call home. As a BCNPHA sponsor, you'll be making valuable connections and increasing your visibility in the sector by joining a group of mission-aligned, socially responsible organizations.

Education Sponsor

Online Learning Events (OLEs)

Why Become an Education Sponsor?

Being an education sponsor will lift your brand exposure and help the non-profit housing sector build capacity through skill- and knowledge-building.

BCNPHA'S SERIES OF ONLINE LEARNING EVENTS informs and connects the housing sector. These professional development opportunities allow our members to learn about specific topics of interest, skills development, and industry-leading trends through a convenient virtual format.

Online Learning Events Series

In 2025, almost 1,000 participants took part in 26 OLEs. Sponsoring the OLEs means you will help build sector capacity and deliver valuable brand impressions through the following:

ADVERTISING in digital communication materials, including Housing Updates suite of e-newsletters (bi-weekly distribution to approximately 5,000 housing professionals).

PROMOTION of your sponsorship throughout BCNPHA social media channels with more than 23k followers and an annual reach of 30 million+.

BOOST YOUR FOOTPRINT in the sector. Your brand logo will be displayed at applicable education sessions, on the BCNPHA website and recognized by event hosts.

ENHANCE YOUR BRAND by demonstrating your commitment to the community and the sector.
